Encouraging Words

What You Need:

Paper and crayons

What You Do:

Say, "God gives us friends, and we can thank God for our friends! Good friends say encouraging things to each other! I thought we could practice that. I want you to think of someone that is your friend. First, say their name and something encouraging or kind about that friend. I'll start. (Say a friend's name and something you appreciate about that friend.) Now you pick a friend and say something encouraging about them. (Pause.) What a kind thing to say! Okay, let's think of another friend and say something kind or encouraging about them. (Pause.) You said so many kind and encouraging things! Now let's write those down on some cards so we can give them to our friends and encourage them the next time we see them! Just like David and Jonathan, we can be good friends who encourage each other! And we can thank God for our friends! We can thank God for everything."
